History will be made next Monday at West Sacramento's Sutter Health Park, as the Athletics host the Chicago Cubs for the first Major League Baseball game in the history of the capital city.

The Athletics' home opener will be played nearly one year after the announcement that the team will temporarily relocate to West Sacramento.

The Sacramento region has been the home to countless major leaguers throughout the years, from World Series champions Dusty Baker, Dustin Pedroia and Jeff Blauser to all-stars Logan Webb and Derek Lee. Sacramento has been home to Minor League Baseball for years with the Solons and River Cats, but this will be the first time a major-league club has called the city home.

Monday's game starts a three-game set between the A's and Cubs and marks the beginning of their three-year stay in

The U.S. Navy Blue Angels perform in the sky over Mather Airport as a sold-out crowd watches from below Saturday afternoon. The Blue Angels and several other demonstration teams performed again Sunday, and the 19th annual airshow totaled 146,872 spectators. "The enthusiasm for this year's airshow was truly remarkable," said Darcy Brewer, airshow executive director. "Selling out days in advance is a testament to the incredible lineup and the unique experience we strive to deliver. This event attracts a growing number of aviation enthusiasts from all over the globe, and it is a true honor to create this event for our community." Among the 295 aircraft and pilots were the U.S. Marine Corps F-35B Lightning II, U.S. Air Force F-16 Viper, Tucker's Air Patrol, vintage World War II aircraft and more. As the cornerstone event of the U.S. Navy's "Navy Week" in Sacramento, there were several naval aircraft and exhibits on display. Attendees also explored exhibits from Travis Air Force Base, Beale Air Force Base, CAL FIRE and various law enforcement and first responder agencies. The 19th annual California Capital Airshow was a historic success, with Saturday and Sunday shows selling out for the first time and more than 140,000 spectators attending.

And while organizers were thrilled with the turnout, they say the real winners are area schoolchildren who directly benefit from the success of the airshow, because its primary focus is inspiring and educating the next generation about the magic of flight.

City donates housing funds to Habitat for Humanity project

BY J.D. HAWKES
FOR THE FOLSOM TELEGRAPH

City officials donated $810,000 to a charity building affordable homes in the Folsom Historic District this week.

The Folsom City Council on Tuesday approved $810,000 in Permanent Local Housing Allocation funds toward Habitat for Humanity to build the low-income, sweat-equity homes on Persifer Street.

To comply with the State Surplus Land Act in 2021, the city of Folsom sold surplus land, the former library at 300 Persifer Street, to Habitat for Humanity of Greater Sacramento for a 10-unit, affordable for-sale housing project.

Work has begun to build five 1,268 square-foot, two-story, four-bedroom, two-bath, single-family residences between 302 and 310 Persifer Street. The project then includes five one-story, 750 square-foot, two-bedroom, one-bath, cottage-type residences along the alley behind. The five parcels are each 7,018 square feet.

Each two-story residence would have an attached one-car garage in the front, and each one-story residence in back would have an uncovered parking space off the alley, staff said.

The Historic District Commission last year approved a design and density bonus for Habitat to build the 10 units. The .91-acre Persifer Street site is located on the northeast corner of Persifer Street and Coloma Street.

City staff said Habitat had a funding gap of $800,000 after losing HOME program funding previously approved by the City Council, and needs to comply with the State CalHome program. The full amount of $807,692 of PLHA funds is for the "uniquely qualified and timely Persifer Street Project."

Dreaming, waking, living, dying

Emily Dickinson, in her pithy way, exclaimed, "Life is but life and death but death."

Every day we stand in one, and sometimes one foot in each. This week is my "memento mori" word, remember you must die.

For me, the past week witnessed the "farewell for now" of several people I was connected to in various ways.

One resident of Brookdale who attended our weekly church services unexpectedly passed on. I say unexpectedly even though we know, as in "Unforgiven," Clint Eastwood says, "We all got it coming." It isn't an ultimate surprise; we just didn't think it would happen this week.

My brother-in-law also went on. Even though he struggled with physical issues, we still had no idea this would be his week.

I heard the news in a Facebook post the first roommate I had in Bible School, a friend from the same church in Baltimore, left this world.

Then there were the usual one or two from our work at RC Hospice. That is less of a surprise but still, when it happens, it is news and affects us.

And of course there are the celebrities and such, like George Foreman. We have some sort of cultural connection to a few of these people.

Those of us who remain continue walking, living. We have received the gift of a new day. We don't presume to know how many more we shall receive. Look, here comes another breath.

The Bible uses the word "appointment" in Hebrews 9:27 to assert that "it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment."

Some propose the concept that all of us are actually asleep during our time here on earth, sleepwalking as it were. If so, then we truly wake up after the end of it. Thus, Shakespeare has Prospero say in The Tempest, "We are all made of dreams."

In "Sh-Boom," The Chords proposed, "Life could be a dream." Poe asked, in one of his poems, "Is all that we see or seem but a dream within a dream?"

And Lewis Carroll added in his own poem, "Life, what is it but a dream." If you are going to "row, row, row your boat gently down the stream," remember to do it merrily because, "Life is but a dream."

Now wake up and live, and live for God.

Goldilocks weather is juuust right

March is known to come in like a lion and go out like a lamb. And with that, spring is in the air. At the time of this writing, the weather is absolutely amazing. The high today is expected to break 80, which I think it's safe to say we haven't seen yet this year, just like my golf game.

And when the weather gets like this, it's just so invigorating. The trees sprout new leaves, flowers bloom, and the air is so crisp and clear. It makes everything feel fresh, new and full of energy.

I've noticed that when the weather turns warm, people start coming out like bears waking from hibernation. Neighborhoods are livelier with people pushing baby strollers, out jogging, walking dogs and riding bikes. The dog parks seem more crowded, full of happy pups stretching their legs after months of rain and cold or just enjoying the sun-drenched lawn.

Our favorite ice cream shop in Folsom will certainly be more crowded, with families lining up for that first taste of spring. My wife calls this "Goldilocks weather" - not too hot, not too cold, but juuust right! It's the kind of weather that makes you want to open every window in the house and soak in the fresh air.

But if there's one thing we know about this time of year, it's that Mother Nature loves to keep us on our toes and change is on the way. Just a week ago, we were bundled up in layers, playing bocce in El Dorado Hills, our breath visible in the cold air.

Now, it's shorts, T-shirts and sunglasses. But don't be fooled - the forecast later this week called for a high of 58 degrees and rain. It's that typical unpredictable early spring weather. One day, you're basking in the sun; the next, you're reaching for your raincoat. Don't pack it away too soon.

This variability is part of what makes this season so enjoyable. After months of dark, chilly days, the promise of spring brings a renewed sense of possibility. People start planning gardens, dusting off their hiking boots and making summer travel plans.

Farmers markets will soon be in full swing, bursting with fresh produce, and outdoor festivals will occupy our weekends. It's a time of transition, a bridge between the cozy comfort of winter and the long, sun-soaked days of summer.

For me, this is the perfect season for getting outside. Whether it's my morning run or evening walk, grilling dinner on the patio or simply sitting outside with a cup of tea and a book, there's something about the fresh spring air that makes everything feel a little lighter. It's also a time when communities come alive - parks, trails and outdoor cafes fill with people eager to soak up the sun and shake off the winter blues.

So, while the warm weather is here, take advantage of it. Plant that garden, go on that hike, paddle that kayak or take a moment to enjoy the beauty of nature waking up from its winter sleep.

And when the inevitable cool spell rolls back in, just remember - it's all part of the season's charm. Spring is a time of renewal, fresh starts and appreciating the little things. So, get outside and enjoy it while it lasts.

I love the sun so I am definitely enjoying this weather as I sit on my patio and provide updated local real estate details. While El Dorado Hills (EDH) and Folsom real estate seem to consistently follow similar trends, there are marked differences through February 2025 when compared to the same period in 2024.

In EDH, the average price of a home sold is up more than 7 percent in 2025, while in Folsom the average price of a home sold is down closer to 15 percent. Both markets show an increase in 2025 in number of homes for sale and number of new listings. In EDH, there are more than 15 percent more homes for sale, and new listings are up more than 25 percent. Folsom has experienced more than 20 percent more homes for sale, but new listings are only up 10 percent.

In both markets, homes are selling at an average of just about 1 percent under list price and taking 45 days to sell. With more homes expected to come on the market, and buyer activity indicators are up, it should be a very exciting spring.

I love where I live. I'm excited to continue to help more families in 2025 with their real estate needs. With proper planning and a good Realtor (luckily, I know a really good one ...), you can smoothly get to your next stage in life.

How to overcome buyer's remorse

Question:

Dear Kari,

I am afraid my agent has about given up on me ever choosing a home. When I started out, I wanted a newer property and perhaps a condo. Then I changed my mind to a single-family home and now I just can't decide, and I feel stuck. Do all homebuyers have the same worries I do and if they do, how do I avoid involving my emotions in the homebuying process?

Answer:

This is a great question to ask, as it is one many homebuyers are concerned about. The homebuying process seems like it should be a very logical one which involves calculating costs and comparing home values. However, reality sets in and it is only natural that our human emotions take over our logical thoughts.

When we step back to really think about the fact a home purchase is one of the largest purchases most folks ever make, then it's a very scary event. This, accompanied with fear of the unknown, along with the infrequency of buying a home, makes this a daunting process.

Some common buyer's remorse concerns:

Interest rates will go up or down.

* Denied for the loan.

* Closing costs will be more than anticipated.

Kari McCoy
The Real
McCoy

* What if I wait and the market goes up?

* What if my offer is rejected?

* What if someone else makes an offer?

* The home might have hidden problems.

* Looking outside my price range.

* What if I am offering too much or too little on the home I like?

* What if I fall in love with the home?

* What if I wait too long and I get priced out of the market?

Some ideas to help wade through buyer's remorse:

Stop looking for perfection, it does not exist. There are always tradeoffs to consider. When looking for a home, do not put such harsh conditions on your search parameters. Such as, we want to only pay $500,000 and not a penny more. Then a home might come to market for $515,000, which is a steal of a deal, and you might miss out on it completely since $500,000 is where you set the bar.

Once you are in contract on the home you purchase, it would be wise not look at any other homes on the market for sale. After you have selected your lender and filled out the loan application, stop listening to the teaser ads on the radio of unbelievably cheap loan rates. People that continue to look at homes on the market tend not to look at them in person, yet look at the tantalizing pictures on virtual tour websites and may become remorseful. Watch out for this pitfall.

When thoughts of buyer's remorse enter your mind, think back to the first day you saw the home you're in contract on. Remember the things that first drew you to the home along with the qualities that stand out in this home above all the other ones you looked at. Staying with this focus will keep distractions out of your way during your home sales closing process.

When you have the anxiety of buyer's remorse, give yourself permission to feel it. Many buyers feel this way, even when it's the third or fourth property they have purchased. It is good to know that buyer's remorse is usually a faded memory after the homebuyers have moved into their new home and are all nicely settled in.

Keep in mind, people are individuals, just as homes are unique and individual. There is a person for every house and a house for every person.

The Warren Buffett stock indicator

When confused about the markets and you don't know whether to keep holding stocks, buy more at lower prices or sell off some holdings, we can look at some historical indicators to give us a handle on what other investors may be thinking.

After all, what others are thinking will have an effect on the markets because when investors are thinking bad things, they push the sell button. When they do that, stocks can fall.

The reason why markets move can be summed up in one simple statement a broker once told me way back in the '80's when a stock holding of mine kept falling despite good news on the stock. I asked him why the stock was cratering, and he simply said "There are more sellers than buyers, Marc."

Simple as it was, that statement stuck in my head from then on.

The reason stocks move in the end have only this one simple reason: There are more people on one side of the buy/sell boat than the other.

Although some analysts are more successful than others when it comes to forecasting market direction, the simple fact is no one can forecast market direction at any time with 100-percent certainty.

Instead of looking for some market guru who claims to do the impossible, we can instead look to what has occurred before previous market routs and hopefully gain some insight to at least have a chance of making a better decision on whether to buy or sell some of our holdings.

Insiders like the VP's and CEO's of publically traded companies can buy or sell their company stock, and this type of information is made public in a variety of disclosures and reports.

When company insiders are selling more than they

Marc Cuniberti

are buying, it could be an indicator their confidence in either their company or the market in general is waning. When they are buying more than selling, it could instead be a positive sign of things to come.

In the past few months, some notables of a variety of companies have been dumping stock. Executives in popular stocks like JP Morgan Bank, Palantir Technologies, Tempus AI and MicroStrategy have sold millions of dollars worth of shares. Although the ratio of sellers to buyers is beginning to edge down in the last few weeks, there are still more insiders selling than buying.

Another indication some Wall Street analysts might look at is what is called the "Warren Buffett" indicator. Buffett is the founder of Berkshire Hathaway, which was started in 1965 and has compounded capital at about 20 percent per year on average. Over six decades, that figure bests the performance of the S&P 500 by an eye-popping 120 times!

Berkshire Hathaway is a holding company which buys and sells stocks in many popular companies like Apple, Duracell, See's Candies, Dairy Queen, Fruit of the Loom and many more. As a result of its buys and sells, at times Berkshire has a lot of cash on hand and at times is more fully invested in stocks.

Right now, Buffett is sitting on $334 billion, about one-third of the company's value. The Buffett indicator is simply the size of the American economy compared against the value of the stock market. As the stock market's total value exceeds the size of the American economy, stocks are thought to be more expensive. When the value of the economy rises in relation to the stock market, or the stock market value falls in relation to the economy, stocks are said to be cheaper.

In 2000, right before the dot.com crash, the value of the stock market was about 150 percent of the U.S. economy. This indicated stocks in general were "expensive."

Stocks crashed shortly thereafter.

Right now, the stock market value sits at about 190 percent of the U.S. economy. The market's value was briefly at 200 percent a few weeks back. That is the highest it's ever been going back to 1971.

Past performance is never a guarantee of future results. Markets could get stretched even further than they are now.

That said, it could be argued that historically speaking, based on what some Wall Street insiders are doing with their money, it might be prudent to exercise at least a little bit of caution going forward until things settle down.

VFW Teacher, Officer of the Year recognized at Post 6604 ceremony

BY S. MONCALIERI
FOR THE FOLSOM TELEGRAPH

Folsom VFW 6604 presented awards recently to outstanding citizens who have performed exceptionally in their positions representing the community and the organizations for which they work and mentor.

Post 6604 Commander Robert M. Lee Jr. presided over the ceremony awarding the 2025 Post Teacher of the Year to California Cadet Corps (CACC), Captain Elizabeth Platt of the Clarksville Charter School that services Clarksville, Feather River and Lakeview Charter Schools, and the Law Enforcement Officer of the Year to Folsom Police Department Neighborhood Services Division Supervisor, Sgt. Mike Grueneberg.

Capt. Platt, a US Army and California National Guard veteran, serves as the military science teacher and 434th Battalion Commandant of Cadets at Clarksville Charter, where she works diligently to develop cadets with customs and courtesies, becoming better citizens of character dedicated to serving their community and nation. In 2001, she obtained her BA in Government Studies from CSU Sacramento, moving on to work for the California Department of Education. Platt received a Masters in Teaching with multiple subject matter credentialing, adding to her extensive résumé.

In 2021, she established the school's 434th CACC Battalion and in a short time mentored her ninth-grade cadets (BEAST team), winning first place state at the Xtreme Team Challenge, held at Porterville Military Academy in October 2023. The students were challenged at different stations for their physical, academic and skills abilities. Her passion is in mentoring cadets in proper flag etiquette and believes her cadet's participation in this detail supports their citizenship development, leading them to numerous hours of community service each year and demonstrating to the community what their youth order represents. Platt was recently appointed as the CACC Northern California Brigade Advisor for the 6th Brigade.

Grueneberg has more than two decades of experience as a Folsom PD officer who was an active-duty Marine Corps and reservist veteran. He was selected based on several factors, including his remarkable performance in the line of duty and bravery, with a commitment to developing future leaders supervising others in the city's Problem Oriented Policing program and maintaining community safety under his guidance.

Previously a K-9 handler, Sgt. Grueneberg is the department use-of-force expert and instructor, ensuring high standards of operational readiness of fellow officers with his field expertise and mentorship is payment forward for years to come. Since 2007, Sgt. Grueneberg has received numerous accolades, including six commendations, two department bronze stars and unit citations with many other awards that have made him an extraordinary officer to be recognized in the Folsom community and Northern California.

Grueneberg was subsequently selected as the VFW California District 17 Law Enforcement Officer of the Year. His department is still awaiting a decision of him being selected as the California State Department VFW Law Enforcement Officer of the Year.

In attendance were veteran members, Folsom PD Lt. Louis Wright and several line officers along with Mrs. Shannon Breckenridge and Mrs. Claire Walker representing the Sequoia Grove Charter Alliance School system.

Here's How It Works:
 Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

El Dorado soph wins state poetry-writing competition

STAFF REPORT

Erin Levinson, the 2025 El Dorado County Poetry Out Loud champion, won first place in California's statewide poetry-writing competition, Poetry Ourselves.

Levinson, a sophomore at El Dorado High School, read her winning piece, "Metaphors," during the Statewide Poetry Out Loud competition in Sacramento on March 16.

Poetry Ourselves is a competition for original work by Poetry Out Loud county champions. Students are invited to submit an original written poem of no more than 50 lines, to be judged anonymously by a guest poet. The winner receives $100 and an opportunity to recite his or her poem during the state finals. A runner-up is also recognized at the event, and both poems are published on the California Poetry Out Loud website. The Poetry Ourselves creative writing competition has been offered to California county champions since 2019.

At the El Dorado County Poetry Out Loud Finals, held at Imagination Theater on Feb. 6, Levinson took the top spot and advanced to the statewide competition in Sacramento. Levinson is the second El Dorado County Poetry Out Loud champion to take first place in the Poetry Ourselves poetry-writing competition in the six years since it began, joining Oak Ridge High School's Emily Lieber, who took first place in 2021.

El Dorado High School sophomore Erin Levinson read "Metaphors" during the Statewide Poetry Out Loud competition in Sacramento on March 16.

color-rich yet artificial
I am a gill-less tadpole, drowning with my first few

I am a half-empty cup, full

Erin Levinson (fourth from left) won the El Dorado County Poetry Out Loud competition, then won the statewide poetry-writing competition, Poetry Ourselves.

Express yourself, they preach in grade-school English.

Use metaphors; make yourself something you aren't

People will understand that way.

You grow to love your language; when your fingertips dance over the keyboard you become

A maestro of melodrama, a princeps of personification, an adept of alliteration

Still, even language has limits.

Still, you silently scream what makes you you into the darkness every night, and no one hears.

Articulate as a clacking hen

Communicative as a text message

What makes you different? you wonder. What makes us all different?

Why can't we understand each other? You throw yourself into your writing
Maybe people will understand that way.

I am a river, you write, ever-changing and feeling more of myself slip away with every second.

No. I am an island in a never-ending archipelago, reaching reaching reaching

Over the unforgiving sea that separates—

No. I'm a vast ocean—

No. I'm a stagnant puddle—

I'm a single tear—

Your throat is raw, although you haven't made a sound.

What will it take for us to truly see each other? Where does cruelty come from?

As night creeps into morning, you can finally whisper the truth

Without dressing it up in figurative flowers.

I'm a lost child.

I'm alone in the darkness.

I'm empty.

We all are.

Alone together in the inky-black, moon-bright world.

And if not in any other way, can't we relate in that?

Insights, relief strategies for allergy season

BY DIGNITY HEALTH
FOR THE FOLSOM TELEGRAPH

It's a beautiful time of year in Folsom and the surrounding region, but the weather and vibrant blooms can also be dampened by allergies.

Dignity Health is offering advice on how people can manage seasonal allergies through various methods. With pollen levels expected to spike earlier and last longer, Dignity Health experts warn that many individuals will experience heightened symptoms, making it essential to take proactive steps for relief.

Understanding the allergy season

Experts predict spring allergies will begin up to three weeks earlier than usual, with fall allergies lingering longer into the colder months, especially in southern states. The increase in pollen exposure, coupled with fluctuating temperatures, could leave many struggling with persistent symptoms.

How to tell the difference in allergies, cold, flu or COVID

Because allergies share symptoms with colds, flu and COVID-19, it can be difficult to determine the cause of congestion, coughing or fatigue. A key distinction is that allergies do not cause fever, body aches or chills, which are common with viral illnesses like flu or COVID-19. Unlike colds, allergies also tend to cause persistent sneezing, itchy eyes and a clear, runny nose rather than thick mucus or congestion. Shortness of breath is uncommon with allergies unless a person has asthma, whereas it can be a more serious symptom of COVID-19.

If symptoms persist, worsen or include fever and fatigue, it's important to seek medical advice to rule out illness.

Tips for managing allergy symptoms

"With pollen levels rising earlier and lasting longer, it's important to take a proactive approach to allergy management," said Dr. Binita Mandal, Allergist & Immunologist with Dignity Health Mercy Medical Group. "Simple daily habits and the right medications can make a huge difference in reducing symptoms and improving quality of life. This is especially true in the Sacramento region."

Here are some strategies to help manage allergy symptoms effectively:

* Check pollen counts daily - Limit outdoor activities when pollen levels are high, especially in the morning and on windy days.

* Shower and change clothes after being outside - This helps remove pollen from your skin and clothing.

* Keep windows and doors closed - Use air conditioning with a HEPA filter to keep indoor air clean.

* Use over-the-counter allergy medications - Antihistamines, nasal sprays and eye drops can help control symptoms.

* Try nasal rinses - A saline rinse (like a neti pot) can help clear allergens from nasal passages.

* Wear sunglasses and a hat - This prevents pollen from getting into your eyes and hair.

* Wash bedding frequently - Use hot water to eliminate allergens that accumulate on sheets and pillowcases.

* Consult an allergist for advanced treatments - Allergy shots (immunotherapy) or prescription medications may be necessary for severe cases.

AIRSHOW:

this, but it's bigger than that," explained Darcy Brewer, airshow executive director. "Throwing a party is really great; it's hard work and it's satisfying when people are so happy. But what we really want to do is sit on a hangar floor with a kid and talk about what's possible."

The California Capital Airshow was established in 2004 and is a 501(c)3 nonprofit. All year, the organization's focus is on cultivating its many free educational programs for students with year-round STEM, aviation and aerospace education events, a fact many people may not realize.

"We're here all year using those 40,000 square-foot hangars as classrooms for free programs for kids K-12," said Brewer. "They focus on different topics and are offered different programs, depending on their age, to show them what jobs are out there, and show them how cool they are. Flydrones, space suits, whatever, and immerse them in programs that are likely to change their lives."

While Gold Country Media spoke with Brewer, the airshow was well underway, with thunderous roars of jaw-dropping fighter jet displays in the sky, and she could not contain her excitement, even though she's been a pilot herself since the age of 17.

It never gets old. "Fifth-generation stealth fighter, baby! I love this sound," exclaimed Brewer, trying to be heard over the ear-rattling boom of the jet overhead. "That's innovation right there! What that thing is about to do is defy the laws of physics and nature. Some young people were sitting around a table one day with a bunch of napkins and pens and thought, we can do this. This would be great. Isn't that inspiring to a young person? Even if it doesn't exist, you can dream it up, go build it, go fly it!"

This is why this particular airshow is so family friendly, with kids entering for free. The goal is to expose children to the wonder of aviation and teach them about the rich heritage of aviation in the community... with hopes they will want to learn more.

Gold Country Media may have met one potential pilot in the making: A Rocklin family attended the airshow for the first time, thanks to the lure of the beloved Blue Angels. Megan Strong brought her three little sons to the show, along with her husband.

"My husband is a kid at heart and he wanted to experience the Blue Angels," said Strong, on what inspired them to attend the show. "And they (her three young sons) really like planes, toy planes."

Megan's 7-year-old son, Luca, was prepared for the show with ear-protecting headphones and said the F-16's were his favorite thus far (but he hadn't seen the Blue Angels yet).

"It's really good," Luca said when asked about the show. "I kind of want to be a pilot."

That spark of interest is what this airshow is all about. "We're all about the kids," said Brewer. "I ask people to donate, I ask people to buy tickets. It's all in an effort to grow the program to the point that we leave no curious minds outside the gates."

The California Capital Airshow works with the Sacramento County Office of Education to reach children who are interested in their educational programs. Last summer, they received enough funding to host their first summer camps, which were a huge success.

ATHLETICS:

Sacramento while a new stadium is built in Las Vegas.

How much are tickets?
Sutter Health Park has a maximum capacity of 14,014 with 10,624 fixed seats and general admission lawn seating available. According to Gametime, a second-hand market site for ticket sales, the A's have the most expensive ticket in MLB with a median price of $181. The World Series-champion Los Angeles Dodgers are second at $177.

According to Gametime, the cheapest seat available for Monday's opener is $96, with all fees included.

For fans who don't want to spend a pretty penny attending games, there are cheaper games throughout the summer with multiple lawn tickets available on the resale market below $50.

The Athletics also announced they will make 250 lawn seats available for a fixed price of $25 for all 81 home games the day of each game.

How long will the A's stay?
The A's are contracted to play at Sutter Health Park through the 2027 season while owner John Fisher builds a $1.7 billion stadium on the Las Vegas Strip. While the stadium has yet to break ground and still has multiple hurdles to clear, Fisher believes it will be ready by the time the 2028 season begins.

Should the Las Vegas stadium face any delays in construction, there is a fourth-year option that would keep the A's in West Sacramento in 2028.

Kings and River Cats owner Vivek Ranadive hopes there will be an opportunity to bring Major League Baseball to the city permanently, telling reporters last year, "I've been in touch with the commissioner and I've gotten to know him. And they will be creating a new team. They want it to be on the West Coast. They'd love for it to be in California."

JORDAN GEORGEON

The Athletics are scheduled to begin their tenure in Sacramento on Monday, March 31, against the Chicago Cubs.

What changes were made to the park?

Sutter Health Park underwent a facelift in the offseason to become it MLB-ready.

The most apparent change is a high-resolution scoreboard in right-center field that will provide fans with real-time statistics, data and analytics as the game unfolds. The old scoreboard has been converted into an enhanced batter's eye.

The playing surface was upgraded to a top-notch natural grass that is said to optimize temperatures and will withstand the constant use.

The ballpark will also be connected in ways like never before, as workers installed 35,000 feet of fiber-optic cables to allow high-speed internet access for fans, workers, media members and broadcasters.

Beyond the left-field wall lies a revamped clubhouse for the players that includes a mental health space, hot and cold tubs, a cryotherapy chamber, massage therapy rooms, weight rooms, hitting tunnels and a new food facility.

Fans will enjoy some of the upgrades, as the improved Wi-Fi allows for more efficient mobile ordering. The ballpark will also feature multiple premium areas where fans can receive in-seat service and enjoy upgraded amenities.

Key dates
The Athletics will host five series in Sacramento in the first month of the season. The A's will face the San Diego Padres (April 7-9), New York Mets (April 11-13), Texas Rangers (April 22-24) and Chicago White Sox (April 25-27).

Other notable opponents include the New York Yankees (May 9-11), Philadelphia Phillies (May 23-25), San Francisco Giants (July 4-6) and Boston Red Sox (Sept. 8-10). The Dodgers are one of seven National League teams that will not visit Sutter Health Park in 2025.

During the duration of the regular season, there will only be 29 days where there are no Athletics or River Cats games scheduled at the park.

Vista baseball playing well as Woodcreek series comes this week

BY MATT LONG
OF THE FOLSOM TELEGRAPH

Vista del Lago's varsity baseball team is asserting themselves in their new league this season.

Joining the Capital Valley Conference along with Rio Americano and Christian Brothers, the Eagles new league rivals include Inderkum, Ponderosa, Woodcreek and Bella Vista. Through the first three series, the Eagles have taken two games from Rio Americano, Christian Brothers and Inderkum, as they are 6-3 and are in second place behind Woodcreek (7-2) who they play this week in a series that could go a long way in determining the league champion.

On Saturday, Vista defeated a good West Park team in a non-league game, 11-8, in West Park's annual Strike Out Cancer game, a game that raises funds for the ovarian cancer coalition. Vista's overall record beginning this week is a solid 9-5.

"I liked that we executed with runners on base," Vista coach Jim Bazor said, filling in for the team's head coach Matt Hutchins on Saturday.

DOUG GULER

Tyler Bolyard slides safely into home plate during Vista's 3-0 win over Inderkum on Friday.

"We had a chance to move runners and score runners with less than two outs and the boys were able to get some timely hits and come through for us. We were really aggressive on the base paths."

Vista scored runs in four out of seven innings, bashing 12 hits. With the game tied at eight in the top of the seventh, Mason Deutsch tripped to right field, but got thrown out at the plate on Ethan Rhee's ground out to second base. Ryan Lafortune, in his first at bat of the season, then hit an infield single to second base to push Rhee to third.

Asher Taylor then singled to drive in the winning run. Following a base hit from Conner Gastelum, Tyler Bolyard then ripped a two-run single to give the Eagles an 11-8 lead and victory.

Bolyard and Taylor each finished the game with three RBIs, while Taylor and Rhee each scored three times. Gastelum, Bolyard and Deutsch each had

Oak Ridge staff, students ready to clash on the court

BY MATT LONG
OF THE FOLSOM TELEGRAPH

The rivalry between Oak Ridge boys' and girls' basketball teams and Folsom High's teams have got nothing on this one: the Oak Ridge students versus the Oak Ridge staff.

The game to be held at 6 p.m. Friday night in the high school gymnasium serves as a fundraiser, this year serving ASPIREKids, a non-profit organization based in El Dorado County for kids facing adversity. The hope is that the money raised from the game can help give these kids opportunities that they normally wouldn't have. That's the most important part of this game. But there's another important part to the participants: bragging rights. The Oak Ridge students have defeated the staff three years in a row and they can't see themselves losing to them any time soon, while the staff truly thinks this is their year to get the win.

"I'm looking forward to this game against the teachers,"

Oak Ridge senior Marcus Mathenge said. "There are a couple of teachers that I have wanted to play against for a long time now and this is my chance to put my skills up to the test against them. I wish them the best of luck, but I want them to know that the students aren't planning to lose."

The Oak Ridge staff also is confident that they will be on the winning side of this game.

"I'm confident in our team's ability to prevail in this game," said teacher Breanne Wymore. "While the students bring their youthful exuberance to the court, the teachers bring the type of wisdom to the game that only comes with experience."

The game should be a barn burner. The game's theme this year comes from the 2010 movie "Despicable Me," with students wearing yellow and staff wearing purple.

Cost of admission is $5 and half the proceeds go to ASPIREKids with the other half staying at the school.

Unearned run in 7th lifts Folsom over Granite Bay

BY MATT LONG
OF THE FOLSOM TELEGRAPH

Errors played a key role in Folsom High's varsity girls' softball team's 5-4 win over Granite Bay on Wednesday.

In a game pitting two evenly matched teams, it came down to which team made the least and last of the errors, as Folsom made three during the game and Granite Bay made four.

Folsom led 4-3 after two innings until the bottom of the sixth inning when the Grizzlies rallied to tie the score at four. Sami McKown led off the inning by being hit by a pitch from Folsom pitcher Raygan Mercado and Leilani Terrazas followed with a fly ball to the fence in left field which Mariah Wilson dropped to put runners on second and third base with one out. Eliana Snobar followed with a single to score pinch-runner Payton Castaneda to tie the game at four.

Mercado, however, didn't allow the Grizzlies to score the go-ahead run, as she got the last two outs by strikeout to end the inning.

In the top of the seventh with one out, Mercado was safe on an infield single and Devyn Huber was safe on a throwing error by Terrazas at shortstop which put runners on second and third with one out. Wilson redeemed herself for the drop in the previous inning, as she singled to left field to score Mercado in what turned out to be the game-winning run. Like Mercado, Granite Bay pitcher Cam Lincoln got out of the inning by striking out the last two batters.

Castaneda led off the bottom of the seventh with a single, but Folsom manager Sheena Jackson replaced Mercado with lefty Erica

DOUG GULER

Sophie Green had two hits and drove in one run for the Bulldogs.

Bennett to face lefty leadoff hitter Madison Lopez.

The moved worked, as Lopez tried to bunt by bunting the ball straight up in the air and Huber, Folsom's catcher, was able to catch the ball for the first out of the inning.

Huber then made herself the defensive star of the game by throwing out Castaneda trying to steal on a wild pitch and then caught the last out of the game when Lincoln popped up a ball at home plate.

"Raygan's been great for us all year and she comes ready to pitch every game," Jackson said. "They were at the top of the lineup and they had seen Raygan three times so we decided to go to Erica to change it up and give her a different look. Erica brings a very different look because she's a lefty and it worked out for us."

Folsom scored two runs in the top of the first inning with two outs. Sophie Green and Mercado hit singles and Huber walked to load the bases before Faith Best hit a ground ball to shortstop and Terrazas threw the ball away, as both runs came into score.

Granite Bay tied the game in the bottom of the inning. Lopez walked, moved to second on a wild pitch before an error by Folsom first baseman Sophie Green put runners on first and third.

Cam Lincoln moved to second before McKown was robbed of a hit by a nice running catch by Shay Sacay in center field.

Terrazas, however, came through with a double to the left-center field gap to knock in Lopez and Lincoln to tie the game at two.

Folsom scored twice more in the top of the second inning. Presley Geissinger walked to lead off the inning and moved all the way to third on Makenna Padilla's sacrifice bunt. Xavia Hodgins drove in one run with a single and Green knocked in Folsom's fourth run with a double to left field.

Granite Bay came back with one run in the bottom of the second inning, Jordan Feeny singled and Lopez later hit a two-out single to center field to score Feeny and bring Granite Bay to within one run, 4-3.

The Grizzlies had began the week by giving undefeated Oak Ridge all they could want and more before the Trojans scored three runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to win the game, 6-5. This game had to aggravate the sting of Monday's loss all over again.

"We fought Oak Ridge and we stayed neck and neck with them, but right now we're beating ourselves," Granite Bay coach Chelsea Rivera said. "The errors, the lack of focus, lack of energy, that's what is killing us. These close games that we should be winning, it's us beating ourselves. Right now, they've got to make the adjustments, they've got to focus in a little more or it's going to be a long season."

"If we can get the errors cleared up, we're a solid team. Right now we're beating ourselves and we've got to fix it."

The Grizzlies are 1-2 in Sierra Foothill League play and 4-4 overall.

"I'd like to think this is going to be a playoff team, but it's going to take them within themselves to figure out what they want," Rivera said. "Because I can want playoffs all I want, but I can't be on the field for them."

The win improved Folsom's record to 2-1 in league play and to 7-3-2 overall.

"It was a nice win, but a little bit crazy," Jackson said. "Devyn played a great game. She's been light's out as our catcher. She takes her bruises back there, doesn't say a word and does her job."

"Offensively, we were active on the base paths. I wish we would have bunted better, but we got some timely hits when we needed them."

"We're in a tough conference and we have to bring our 'A' game every day. This was a big win and I'm super proud of the girls to find a way to win this game."

Bulldogs swept by Davis, but competing well

BY MATT LONG
OF THE FOLSOM TELEGRAPH

It's been a struggle during the early part of the season for the Folsom High baseball team.

The Bulldogs, however, are not far away from breaking through. The team has only won two of their first eight games, but four of the team's six losses have come by one run and one other loss has come by two runs. The Bulldogs have been in every game they've played but one, a 10-4 loss to Pleasant Grove, and in others they just haven't gotten the big hit when they needed to.

Thursday's 2-1 loss to Davis, as the Blue Devils swept the Sierra Foothill League series, provided the and later in the inning had the bases loaded with one out, but couldn't get the hit that either tied the game or put the Bulldogs in front by

"It's been a grind," Folsom High coach Sal Rivera said, who's in his first year coaching the Bulldogs having spent the last five at Vista del Lago. "It's like year one at Vista all over again. We've been in a lot of competitive games, but we've got four one-run losses. We're competing, but when those big moments come up in a game; when we need a big hit or have that opportunity to score more than one run with the bases loaded and less than two outs, we need to be better in those situations. A lot of those moments have come with our seniors and we just had this conversation where

Ingargiola qualifies for Arcadia in 3,200

BY MATT LONG
OF THE FOLSOM TELEGRAPH

Oak Ridge High distance runners had a great day on Saturday at the Dublin Distance Fiesta at Dublin High School, as the meet broke all previous records for attendance with 225 schools and 4,000-plus athletes participating.

"Our distance runners had an incredible day competing, as many athletes obtained personal records and some were quite significant," Oak Ridge track and field coach Rob Fairley said.

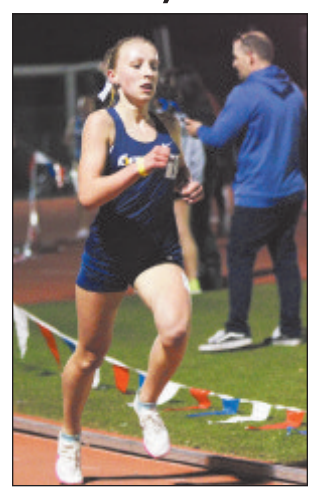

Sophomore Avery Halterman started the competition for Oak Ridge with a personal record of 6:17.58 (three second PR) in the 1,600 meters at 8 a.m. and junior Adriana Ingargiola ended the day of competition for the team racing in the 3,200 meters at 8:15 p.m. Ingargiola's time of 10:53.43 in the 3,200 was a personal-best by nine seconds and met the qualifying standard for her to compete in the Arcadia Invitational on April 11-12.

"This was Adriana's strongest effort in track," Fairley said. "Strategically, she ran a perfect race running very even 400-meter splits, and she worked her way up in the race to ninth place. Her time was eighth-fastest in Oak Ridge history."

Freshmen Ben Gutierrez broke the freshman 1,600 meter school record by three seconds running a 4:35.14 (12 second PR). The previous record was held by Amjed Aboutkhadijeh set in 2007.

"Ben ran a tremendous race by battling with the front runners all the way through the finish line," Fairley said.

Freshman Lauren Tiedeman had a great day of racing in the 1,600 and 800, as she placed second in her 1,600 race with a personal record time of 5:16.62 (nine second PR) and placed third in her 800 race with a time of 2:25.35.

"The top-three finishers in each race received a Dublin Distance Fiesta T-shirt," Fairley said. "Lauren is the first Oak Ridge track and field athlete to receive two t-shirts at the Dublin Distance Fiesta."

Junior Bailey Van Leemput raced fabulously in the 1,600 meters to win his race with a personal record of 4:33.86 (6 second PR). Junior Roman Zamora raced terrifically in his 1,600 meters race and placed second with a time of 4:26.57 (9 second PR), both receiving t-shirts for their top-three finishes.

Sophomore Owen Kraft set a 12-second personal record in the 1,600, running a 5:10.73. Freshman Jack Clarke set a 12-second personal record in the 1,600 with a 4:55.27. Freshman Braden Laxamana set a 15-second personal record in the 1,600 running a 4:52.82.

Mad Dawgs bring home state hardware

BY MATT LONG
OF THE FOLSOM TELEGRAPH

The Mad Dawg Wrestling Club was well represented at Kids Folkstyle State in Fresno's Selland Arena this past weekend.

The event featured wrestlers from all over California from K-8 grades.

Mad Dawg had six wrestlers place top-8 in the state for their respective age groups. The wrestlers were led by sixth grade Sutter Middle School student Drake Edwards, who competed in the Novice Division (fifth/sixth grade) in the 117 weight division. Edwards went a perfect 5-0 with three first round pins and a major decision in the finals to claim the coveted first-place bear trophy and is now a Kids CA State Champion.

Mad Dawg had three others state placers coming out of the Novice division with Modasir Kamal taking fifth place at 74 lbs., Kai Lim getting seventh place at girls' 69 lbs, and Josiah Quinonez finishing in eighth place at 70 lbs. For Quinonez and Lim, they both earned a state medal in their first appearance at the kids' state meet.

two hits. The pitching was divided up between starter Carter Eathorne and relievers Michael Nicosia and Lafortune.

Bazor is pleased with how the team has played so far this season.

"In league play, we go in with the approach of winning the series, winning two games out of three and that's what we've done so far," Bazor said. "The expectation is to win two. We take it one game at a time and we're looking forward to playing Woodcreek this week.

"We don't have much of a rivalry with Woodcreek at Vista, but just by playing them in little league, we know their players and we know they're good. We'll just go right at them and take it one game at a time like the rest of the games."

Bazor said the strength of the Eagles is the bond they have as a team.

"We've got a good family bond," Bazor said. "They communicate well with each other. They've been playing a long time together and it shows in how they support each other on and off the field."

Shane Hargraves, who's only played in five games, leads the team in hitting with a .400 batting average. Russell Snyder is hitting .302 and leads the team with 13 hits and five doubles. Trevor Kaestner is hitting .289 and is second on the team with 11 hits and five RBIs. Deutsch also has 10 hits and five RBIs. Rhee is second on the team with six RBIs and seven runs score, while Bolyard leads the team with seven RBIs and 10 runs scored.

Three juniors, Jacoby Jones, Carson Kocina and Jack Ellis lead the team in innings pitched.

Vista plays host to Woodcreek on Tuesday and faces the Timberwolves on the road on Thursday and Friday.

we're leaning on those guys in those moments, the guys who have the most experience."

Folsom has six seniors and unfortunately one of their best, catcher Jacob Klapper, has already been lost for the season with an injury.

The team's other five seniors include Luke Kaiser, Luke Williams, Logan Hutton, Ben Bowers and Jalen Thiessen.

In Thursday's 2-1 loss to Davis, Kaiser had his best outing of the three that he's had, as he threw four innings and allowed two runs on four hits and a pair of walks to go along with two strikeouts.

Zach Nerverve threw 2.1 innings of relief and allowed one hit, while Alex Blount came in to get the last two outs, as Folsom's pitchers had a good game.

The offense, however, only managed two hits.

Matteo Gonzalez singled in the second inning and Devin Schuster singled in the fifth inning, but the team needed one more.

In the bottom of the fifth inning, Gonzalez was hit by a pitch and Nick Johnson followed with a walk before Bowers put down a sacrifice bunt that put runners on second and third with one out.

Schuster then singled in Gonzales to make the score 2-1. After Will Dreussi walked, Davis relief pitcher Gabriel Olmos then got Williams to swing at a high fastball for strike three and then got Hutton to ground out to second base to end the inning, as well as Folsom's only scoring threat of the day.

"Luke pitched well after struggling his first two outings; Zach threw well and Alex came in and threw strikes and got outs, we just didn't do enough with the opportunities we had offensively," Rivera said. "That's been a common theme so far.

"We look at the game in three facets; offense, defense and pitching. Today we got the pitching; but the defense let us down late but it didn't hurt us, but we didn't have the hitting. Yesterday we had the hitting, but our defense made five errors and we gave them five unearned runs. We haven't put all three facets together yet. Even in our wins, it's been a grind."

While the Bulldogs are off to a slow start, Rivera believes his team will come around.

"I believe we have the right guys and I believe in this group," Rivera said. "I know we will improve and get better, but being in these tight games and not being on the right side of them has hurt our confidence. The scores show we're competing, but we're young. Guys have to step up in certain moments. Guys have to want to be in the moment and not let the moment get too big.

We're going to keep at it, keep working hard and figure this out."

Folsom opens up a three-game series with Jesuit on Monday on the road.

JOSH GOLEMAN

The Preservation Hall Jazz Band performs at Harris Center For the Arts on Wednesday, April 9, at 7:30 p.m.

Bingo! Singer-sax player – or vice versa – is living his dream

BY L. KENT WOLGAMOTT
LAST WORD FEATURES

Two decades ago, Clint Maegden hadn't had the remotest thought of becoming part of the Preservation Hall Jazz Band.

After all, he was a rock singer/songwriter who was running a cabaret-style game show in New Orleans' French Quarter, a seemingly far cry from the Preservation Hall Jazz Band, founded in 1960, which plays traditional New Orleans jazz at the hall in the Quarter and at venues around the world.

That's a far different venue than the back of The Original Fiorella's Cafe, a Big Easy culinary institution for which he delivered food on a bike – "Can't even imagine how many actual pounds of chicken I delivered over all those eight years," Maegden says – where his New Orleans Bingo Show was performed.

Then, in 2004, Ben Jaffe, the owner of Preservation Hall, saw the Bingo Show a couple times and asked Maegden if he'd be interested in singing a couple Kinks songs with the jazz band, a cover choice that, considering the ensemble had played with Led Zepelin's Robert Plant and The Who's Pete Townsend, Maegden learned, was very fitting.

"Each of those artists have a really strong connection to traditional New Orleans jazz, ironically enough, because of their parents," he said. "Ray Davies (singer/guitarist of the Kinks) grew up in a house where his dad was a trombone player. When Ray Davies played with us, he insisted that we play 'Muskrat Ramble,' which is kind of a deep cut. But he had a really strong connection to it because of his dad.

"And when he and his brother did (the 1971 album) 'Muswell Hillbillies,' a lot of the overall vibe and how the chord changes work is kind of a nod to traditional New Orleans jazz," Maegden said. "I think that Ben recognized that and thought it would be a really organic choice to have a singer come in and do some of the songs."

That singer was Maegden, whose performances of The Kinks numbers got him an invitation to join the band as featured singer.

"Ben invited me into the band, and this is out of his own words, to kind of shake things up a little bit honestly," the singer said. "When I got into the band, most of the audience (members) that we were performing for were, let me just say that, on the older side ...

"What I experienced when I was first in the band was, I don't mean to be flip-pant about this in any way, but literally, in between songs, there would be these loud squealing sounds and we'd look at each other wondering what it was," Maegden said. "It turned out it was everyone's hearing aids in the audience just cranked up as loud as possible."

A few years in, the band needed a fill-in sax player for a gig and Maegden got drafted. "I don't think most of the guys even knew I played sax," he said.

That, too, was a hit and he was soon one of the band's horn players, learning how to play traditional sax on the job.

"I had the great honor of sitting right next to Charlie Gabriel (the band's now-92-year-old musical director) for probably close to nine years on the road," Maegden said. "I sat to his left and the bottom of my right leg was bruised for two years. He would kick me to say, 'You're playing too loud.' I kind of learned under a really old tradition approach.

"Twenty years in, I still feel like I am a student at the feet of Black American music," Maegden said. "I've just had the great opportunity of being able to study under these gigantic figures like Charlie Gabriel, my chief teacher."

Shaking things up worked for Jaffe and the band as it began drawing younger audiences with its repertoire that extends beyond classics like "St. James Infirmary," "Basin Street Blues" and "When The Saints Go Marching

In." That shakeup even extends to what the seven-piece ensemble plays on any given night.

"We share a songbook of about 250 songs, and we just kind of leave it up to the trumpet player in the clutch of the moment to kind of curate a show based on the audience that's there and the room and the vibe of the band," Maegden said. "I imagine we'll probably lean a little bit more into the traditional catalog, but then you don't ever really know."

That mix will likely include a gospel song or

"David Blaine Do Not Attempt" - New Episodes (March 31)

A six-part series exploring the world through the lens of magic, this documentary seeks out incredible people who perform real feats that look like magic. Host David Blaine takes us on a jaw-dropping journey through some of the world's most extraordinary cultures as he seeks out kindred spirits, finds inspiration, and learns some truly exceptional skills along the way.

"Oklahoma City Bombing: One Day in America" (April 3)

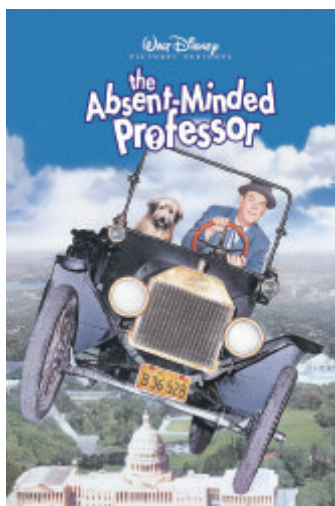

On April 19, 1995, the deadliest act of domestic terrorism in U.S. history devastated the nation, claiming 168 lives—including 19 children—and injuring hundreds more. The bombing of the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building shattered families and changed America forever. Now, 30 years later, National Geographic presents a raw and unflinching account of that tragic day, told by those who lived through it.

"Mufasa: The Lion King" (Available Now)

Explore the unlikely rise of the beloved king of the Pride Lands. Follow Rafiki as he recounts the legend of Mufasa to young lion cub Kiara — daughter of Simba and Nala — with Timon and Pumbaa lending their signature schtick. Told in flashbacks, the story introduces Mufasa as an orphaned cub, lost and alone until he meets a sympathetic lion named Taka, who is heir to a royal bloodline.

"The Absent-Minded Professor" (Available Now)

This comedy stars Fred MacMurray as Professor Ned Brainard, a scientist who invents a revolutionary flying rubber, which he dubs "flubber." Not only does the professor's Model T Ford fly through the air with the greatest of ease, but his secret weapon helps the college basketball team to victory, thanks to flubber-enhanced boots. But, while his long-suffering girlfriend tries to win the professor's heart, crooks are trying to steal his formula.

Food, friends and family: Chef Jernard serves up Southern favorites in 'Savor the City'

Welcoming passengers to climb aboard at "the delicious intersection between Black culture, history and cuisine" (per Forbes), Mississippi-born chef Jernard Wells takes off on a food-and-adventure-filled journey during the brand-new series "Savor the City," coming to TV One Thursday, April 3.

Inspired by the historic Green Book — a travel guide published from the '30s to the '60s, providing Black travelers the information necessary to stay safe while visiting different cities across a segregated America — this latest endeavor from Wells follows the chef as he travels across the country with special guests, indulging in delicious, one-of-a-kind, mouth-watering meals while exploring locations that celebrate Black culture, travel and food.

"We're going to the most sought-after dining spots, giving you an exclusive VIP tour of your favorite Black-owned establishments," reads a description given by TV One. "From street food to fine dining, each episode will showcase a different city and highlight the unique offerings and hidden gems that make up Black culture."

Affectionately called "The Chef of Love," Wells has previously hosted "New Soul Kitchen" and "New Soul Kitchen Remix" for TV One's sister network, CLEO TV. The chef — also a bestselling cookbook author, husband and father of nine — hopes to continue sharing his love of food through this latest series, sharing with Forbes that "'Savor the City' takes a unique approach to exploring Black culinary heritage" in the process.

"We, as African Americans and as people of color, travel to some of the best places. We seek out some of the best food and the best entertainment that speaks to us," Wells says.

Chef Jernard Wells hosts "Savor the City"

"My job with 'Savor the City' is taking on that task to show more of who we are and our resilience. I'm talking about from New Orleans to Martha's Vineyard to Brooklyn and the West Indian Day Parade. I'm talking about a million people [participating in the parade] right here in Brooklyn. Where else can you get that?" He asks. "A lot of people don't know it's been going on for 20 years. Over a million people show up there every year. Those are the things that I want to shine light on."

Sharing foodie love, travel tips and more, "Savor the City" makes its debut on TV One Thursday, April 3.

"A COMPLETE UNKNOWN"

Also a producer of the picture, Timothee Chalamet earned raves and a number of awards for his superb portrayal of music icon Bob Dylan in this biographical drama from director and co-writer James Mangold. A recent nominee for eight Oscars including best picture, the film traces much of Dylan's personal and professional lives as he struggles to hold true to his own visions while encountering resistance from others. His friendship with Pete Seeger (played by Edward Norton) and relationship with Joan Baez (Monica Barbaro) get considerable attention. The principal actors did their own singing and instrument-playing, with equipment from the time period covered by the movie used. Boyd Holbrook plays Johnny Cash — whose experiences were dramatized by Mangold in "Walk the Line" (2005) — and cast members also include Elle Fanning, Dan Fogler, Norbert Leo Butz and Scoot McNairy. * (R: AS, N, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray, 4K Ultra HD and Digital)

Elle Fanning and Timothee Chalamet in "A Complete Unknown"

Blue Ivy Carter (daughter of Beyonce) join the voice cast. DVD extras: four "making-of" documentaries; deleted scenes; outtakes; music video; sing-along version of the film.  (PG: V) (Also on Blu-ray, 4K Ultra HD and Digital)

"FLIGHT RISK"

Directed by Mel Gibson, in his first film in that job in almost a decade, this tense and tightly edited thriller is basically a three-character drama that features Mark Wahlberg as the pilot of a private plane commissioned by a federal marshal (Michelle Dockery, "Downton Abbey") to transport a crime-witness accountant (Topher Grace, "That '70s Show") from Alaska to New York to testify. Not everyone on board is necessarily who they purport to be, though, eventually leading to an in-the-air crisis and leaving in question whether anyone will survive the trip — with most of the story unfolding within the confines of the small aircraft. Leah Remini has a voice role as the marshal's boss.  (R: AS, N, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray, 4K Ultra HD and Digital)

"COMPANION"

Writer-director Drew Hancock's clever sci-fi drama casts Sophie Thatcher ("Yellowjackets") as a young woman who initially doesn't realize she's actually a robot rented by her supposed new boyfriend (Jack Quaid, "The Boys"). When their getaway vacation goes haywire in a very big way, she discovers the truth about herself, then flees and makes modifications to her behavior boundaries that seem destined to spell big trouble for others in attendance for the lake-house escape. Naturally, special effects play heavily into creating the illusion that Thatcher's character is an android; Lukas Gage, Megan Suri, Harvey Guillen and Rupert Friend also appear.  (R: AS, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray, 4K Ultra HD and Digital)

"MUFASA: THE LION KING"

Designed as a companion piece to the 2019 version of "The Lion King," this Disney musical-drama — directed by Barry Jenkins ("Moonlight") and written by returnee Jeff Nathanson — features the voice of Aaron Pierre as the young Mufasa, though some of the late James Earl Jones's legendary vocals as the character's adult incarnation are used at the start of the film. Here, Mufasa has a close relationship with his adoptive brother Taka (voice of Kelvin Harrison Jr.), who will grow up to become his enemy Scar; they become involved in a variety of rivalries as they seek a land called Milele and try to survive a pride of lions known as The Outsiders. Seth Rogen, Billy Eichner, Donald Glover, Beyonce Knowles-Carter and John Kani are heard again in their roles from the preceding movie.
